AHEPA Chapter 41 – Brooklyn

AHEPA Chapter 41 in Brooklyn is one of the historic chapters of the American Hellenic Educational Progressive Association, the largest Greek-American fraternal organization, founded in 1922 to promote Hellenism, education, philanthropy, and civic responsibility.

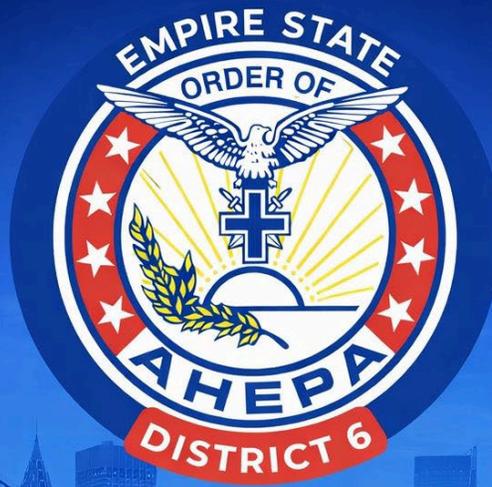

Established in the 1920s, Chapter 41 was formed by members of Brooklyn's growing Greek immigrant community who wanted to support one another, strengthen their connection to the Greek Orthodox faith, and contribute positively to American society.

For generations, the chapter has played an important role in the Brooklyn Greek-American community by supporting local churches, organizing charitable initiatives, awarding scholarships, and promoting Greek culture and heritage.

In recent years, Chapter 41 has continued to grow and remain active, raising significant funds for community causes and strengthening the bonds of brotherhood among its members.

In 2025, AHEPA Chapter 41 proudly celebrated 100 years of service, honoring the many members who helped build and sustain the chapter over the past century.

We look forward to continuing our mission of service, philanthropy, Hellenism, and community leadership for generations to come.
